Senate Group Votes Unanimously In Favor of Charter Ratification

Treaty Will Be Formally Reported to Senate Next Monday

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The United Nations Charter designed to preserve peace won approval from the Senate Foreign Relations committee today, without a dissenting vote, without reservation and without amendment.

The committee wound up five days of public hearings at 4 p. m., deliberated a half hour, and voted 20 to 0 to recommend ratification.

The treaty will be formally reported to the Senate next Monday just as it was signed by fifty nations at San Francisco.

Debate on the Senate floor starts Monday, July 23, may last two weeks or more.

Of the twenty-three committee members were absent when the vote was taken—Senators Johnson (R-Cal.), 1919 foe of the league of nations, Shipstead (R-Minn.) and Murray (D-Mont.).

They will have a chance to be recorded in the voting if they desire, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) said.

Neither Johnson nor Shipstead has disclosed his views definitely but Murray has said he favors the charter.

Johnson told reporters, however, that it is his present inclination "to go along with the crowd."

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) said the Senate will consume all of next week dealing with the Bretton Woods world banking plan and other pieces of legislation "so we can clear the decks for the charter."

A poll of the Senate has shown that ratification by the necessary two-thirds majority is assured, Barkley and Majority Whip Hill of Alabama, even hope for a unanimous approval.

Committee action followed a last day of hearings in which ratification was recommended by a group of public figures who frequently disagreed on other issues.

Winding up a week of testimony by seventy-five witnesses, the Senate Foreign Relations committee heard approval of the treaty by William Green, AFL president; Philip Murray, CIO head; John Foster Dulles, adviser to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in his 1944 campaign, and Norman Thomas, Socialist party leader.

A sharp dissenting opinion came from John T. Flynn, magazine writer who complained that the treaty linked the United States with aggressor nations.

Congress Passes Bill to Finance War Agencies

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—House Republicans lost a fight to cut the Office of War Information's funds in half today as Congress finally passed a $769,364,850 bill financing United States war agencies.

The OWI issue was settled with agreement between House and Senate on $35,000,000 for the agency for the fiscal year which started July 1.

The Senate originally had voted $39,670,215 and House Republicans, charging OWI with waste, tried in vain to cut it to $18,000,000.

A House amendment prohibiting the War Labor Board from taking jurisdiction over agricultural labor was accepted by the Senate. Sen. Morse (R-Ore.) fought it, calling it "a vicious union-busting amendment."

The last-minute flurry over this bill kept the House in session all night. An argument on the question whether the Fair Employment Practices committee should be liquidated gave it $250,000. Sen. Chavez (D-N.M.), described the final language as not requiring the agency to liquidate.

No senator today spoke in favor of the House amendment on agricultural labor. Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz.) said it was aimed specifically at some 500,000 workers connected with food-shortening sheds. He and Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.), of the Appropriations committee, declared the Senate must accept it because otherwise the thousands of employees in the far-flung war agencies would not be paid after next week.

Hayden explained that the time situation, including the need of flying the catch-all bill to President Truman for signature, precluded any further tussling with the House.

The House, said Hayden, voted 203 to 103 to keep the amendment "and is not likely to change its mind."

General Eisenhower, who returned to his Frankfurt, Germany, headquarters from the United States on Wednesday, said his personal goodbyes to his staff of officers from the nations whose armies he led to victory.

Then, to all the mighty force he commanded—Douglahs, Tommies and Poles—he issued this farewell today:

"The task which we set ourselves is finished and the time has come for me to relinquish the combined command."

"In the name of the United States and the British Commonwealth, from which my authority is derived, I should like to convey to you the gratitude and admiration of our two nations for the manner in which you have responded to every demand that has been made upon you."

"At times conditions have been hard and the task to be performed arduous. No praise is too high for the manner in which you have surmounted every obstacle."

"I should like also to add my own personal word of thanks to each one of you for the part you have played and the contribution you have made to our joint victory."

"Now that you are about to pass to other spheres of activity, I say goodbye to you and wish you good luck and God speed."

From the supreme command, Gen. Eisenhower stepped to his new job as commander of U. S. F. E. T.—United States Forces in the European Theater—and as American representative on the European Control Council at Berlin.

Chinese Enter Kanhsien; Bitter Fighting Rages

Army Spokesman Says Japs May Abandon South China Coast

BY SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, July 13 (AP)—Chinese forces broke into the former American air base city of Kanhsien, 240 miles north of Hong Kong, last night and bitter street fighting still rages there "as our troops mop up enemy remnants," the Chinese high command said tonight.

Earlier an army spokesman declared the Japanese might be abandoning the whole South China coast between Hong Kong and Indo-China.

Chinese reports indicated the enemy was retreating northward from Kanhsien. The city's fall would restore to Allied control the sixth former United States Fourteenth Air Force base given up last year to the Japanese.

The high command said its troops had recaptured Tangkiang, highway center eleven miles west of Kanhsien, and Fengkang seven miles from the city, on Wednesday. The Chinese push had carried thirty-five miles since the capture last Saturday of Taiyu, 42 miles southwest of Kanhsien.

Japs Being Intercepted

Japanese troops moving north from Kanhsien were being engaged at points midway along the road to Suichuan, 50 miles north of Kanhsien, and were being intercepted, the Chinese said. Suichuan is thirty miles northwest of Kanhsien.

Some 200 miles to the southeast, Japanese troops who landed on June 30 on the Fukien coast south of Amoy drove on Wednesday toward Changpu, road center thirty miles southwest of Amoy, and were being intercepted, the Chinese said.

Some 200 miles to the southeast, Japanese troops who landed on June 30 on the Fukien coast south of Amoy drove on Wednesday toward Changpu, road center thirty miles southwest of Amoy, and were being intercepted, the Chinese said.

Maj.-Gen. Kuo Chi-Chih, army spokesman, said there was a possibility the Japanese were withdrawing from South China coast, from Indo-China border to the vicinity of Hong Kong. Enemy forces moving generally northward were fifty per cent stronger than those being transferred southward, he declared.

Enemy Convoys Bombed

Meanwhile, American headquarters announced that B-25 Mitchells yesterday bombed two enemy convoys between Changsha and Hengyang in the Ssang river corridor, but the communiqué did not say in which direction the convoys were heading. One convoy was hit south of Changsha, and another north of Hengyang, where secondary explosions were set off. A motor pool at Chuchow near Changsha likewise was hit with large fires started, the bulletin said.

Other planes hit rail targets north of the Yellow river, a barracks area at Caobang in Northern Indo-China, an airfield on Hainan island, and junks and trucks on Luichow peninsula north of the island. One plane failed to return, the communiqué said.

13 Killed in Crash Of Bomber in Florida

PANAMA CITY, Fla., July 13 (AP)—Thirteen men were killed and one was injured today when a four-engine bomber from nearby Tyndall army air field crashed about six miles northwest of here.

Col. Walter W. Ross, commanding officer at the field, said the accident occurred during a routing flight from the station's army air forces flexible gunnery school.

Names of the dead and injured in the crash were not announced immediately.

German Firm's Domination of World Chemical Industry Startles Experts

By DON WHITEHEAD

HOESCHT, Germany, July 13 (AP)—Department of Justice and the United States group control experts delved into seven tons of records today to trace the worldwide industrial espionage and stockholdings of the great German chemical trust, I. G. Farbenindustrie.

These documents may disclose all the secrets of the corporation's intricate cartel operations which gave it a strong hold on many industries in almost every part of the world, including the United States, and provided the Nazis with a powerful organization for industrial espionage and sabotage.

Col. Edwin Pillsbury, Berkeley, Calif., who directed military seizure last week of twenty-four Farben plants in the United States zone of occupation, said it would require months to piece together the entire story of Farben operations and to uncover hidden stockholdings.

"It is one of the most amazing stories of modern times," Pillsbury said. "The manner in which Far-

Secretary Urges Labor To Respect No-Strike Pledge

Schwollenbach Says Management Also Has Great Responsibility

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Lewis B. Schwollenbach tonight called on labor to "respect the no-strike pledge" and asked management not to "seize upon the chance" to cut wages and destroy unions in the change-over to peace economy.

In his maiden speech as secretary of labor he said government had a responsibility to eliminate "fear" among workers that they will be without jobs after the war. That must be done, he said to maintain the war plant working force needed to defeat Japan.

The address was prepared for an NBC broadcast.

Schwollenbach urged a postwar "economy of plenty" with emphasis on "a strong consuming power."

Declaring the government has adequate machinery to settle labor disputes peacefully, he said this to labor.

"To advance any demand to the point of stopping production instead of using machinery available for peaceful settlement is not in the national interest and will not be supported by public opinion. As a representative of all the people, but particularly interested in promoting the real welfare of those who work I urge labor to respect the no-strike pledge."

To management, he said: "I shall expect management to refrain from doing those things, thoughtlessly or purposefully, which provoke men and tempt them to act first and reason later."

He said the interest of the whole nation must be placed above the interest of any individual or group.

Emphasizing that both management and labor must accept equal responsibility in lessening industrial strife, the secretary asserted:

"In the past we have thought of producing goods and then of some means of forcing these goods into consumption. The time has come to become more concerned about the development of a strong consuming power only through this may be provided a natural outlet for all the goods we can produce."

25 Per Cent Cut In Civilian Sugar Supplies Looms

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Civilian supplies of sugar for the last three months of this year may drop twenty-five per cent under the low allotment for the current July-September quarter.

This prospect was disclosed by food officials today as reports came to the Agriculture department and the Office of Price Administration that retail stores in some parts of the country have run out of sugar and are unable to honor ration coupons.

The supply situation was said to be very tight in many sections east of the Mississippi river and in Texas and Oklahoma.

The nation's sugar problem may be stated in these words: Food officials estimate that civilians, with present incomes, would buy around 8,000,000 tons of sugar this year at current prices. The supply available from domestic production and imports is expected to be about 5,100,000 tons. There thus is an overall shortage of nearly 3,000,000 tons.

The civilian supply includes allotments for bakers, hotels, restaurants, soft drink makers, candy manufacturers and other industrial users.

Officials estimate that the world supply is around 8,000,000 tons short of the world demand, so that the United States is not alone on short rations.

Prospects for new supplies—which could only come from Pacific areas now dominated by the Japanese or from the Philippines—were described as unfavorable.

This shortage in reserves and liberality of some local ration boards earlier in the year in issuing ration stamps make it impossible, officials said, for many civilians to obtain sugar for canning at the present time.

Truman Enters British Territorial Waters

ABOARD CRUISER AUGUSTA WITH TRUMAN, July 13 (AP)—President Truman, en route to Potsdam for an historic "Big Three" conference, entered British territorial waters early tonight.

The big warship, from which he will disembark at Antwerp, to fly to the German city, passed the Scilly islands in mid-evening.

The Augusta and the cruiser Philadelphia, serving as an escort for the president's vessel, will be met by an escort of seven British warships tomorrow morning.

Main Weight of Gunfire Is on Honshu, 275 Miles North of Capital City

Reluctant Enemy Air Force Disregarded as Fleet Steams within 20 Miles of Coast; 1,000 Planes of Same Armada Attack Honshu and Hokkaido in Deepest Penetration of Jap Home Islands

By LEIF ERICKSON

GUAM, Saturday, July 14 (AP)—Battleships, cruisers and destroyers of the United States Third Fleet began shelling the North Honshu steel city of Kamaishi today in the first naval bombardment of the Japanese homeland. At the same time more than 1,000 carrier planes of the same force attacked Northern Honshu and Hokkaido.

Both actions still are in progress, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced. Kamaishi is 275 miles north of Tokyo. The warships steamed up and down well within twenty miles of the coast with complete disregard of the reluctant Japanese Air Force, which refused to oppose the carrier planes either at Tokyo or, Tuesday or over Hokkaido and Honshu today.

The big carrier-plane strikes began at dawn in the fog and mist which made observation of results difficult but which had covered the fleet's approach.

The naval bombardment began at noon Japanese time 11 p. m., Friday, Eastern War Time.

Warships Identified

Nimitz named participating ships as including the big new fast battleships Massachusetts, Indiana and South Dakota, the heavy cruisers Chicago, Quincy and the destroyers Southard, Herman, Erben and Black. The Massachusetts and Indiana were among Third Fleet ships disclosed to have been damaged in a terrific typhoon in the Western Pacific June 5, but have since been repaired.

The bombardment force is commanded by Rear Adm. J. F. Shafroth.

Twenty miles is regarded as the extreme effective range of the sixteen-inch guns of the battleships, so the fact that cruisers and destroyers were named indicated that presumably the bold bombardment force was much closer in—within the range of the destroyers' five-inch guns, possibly five miles.

Meanwhile the air strike also was continuing. It was the first such blow against Hokkaido, northernmost of the main Japanese islands. It originally was scheduled for Friday the thirteenth, but was delayed by fog.

Rail Ferry Point Bombed

One target of the planes was the rail ferry point of Honshu in the Hakodate area of Hokkaido.

Hakodate, a rail ferry port, is 180 miles north of Kamaishi, target of the fleet bombardment.

Kamaishi, the site of the Imperial Iron and Steel Works rolling mill, is one of Honshu's main steel-producing centers. One of the island's two rich iron ore districts lies fifteen miles inland.

The Kamaishi mills are supplied with coal from Hokkaido, transported across the Tsugaru straits by sea.

The air and surface strikes thus were closely co-ordinated.

In offshore bombardments such as at Kamaishi, American ships customarily close to within one to nine miles from the coast, depending on the amount of opposition.

The fact that Nimitz named ships participating and stressed the

Most of Ships Crippled in Typhoon Off Japan Have Returned to Action

By LEIF ERICKSON

GUAM, Saturday, July 14 (AP)—A howling typhoon, ripping through the Western Pacific at 135 miles an hour, crippled more than twenty ships of Adm. William F. Halsey's massive Third fleet as it skirted Southern Japan, June 5.

Most of the stricken vessels were repaired quickly and participated in last Tuesday's carrier aircraft sweep against Tokyo although the storm damage was greater than the enemy had been able to inflict in any single action.

Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz disclosed this dramatic naval episode last night reporting that the damaged ships included four of the navy's new carriers and three of the latest battleships.

The terrific force of the wind tore the bow completely off the cruiser Pittsburgh but the vessel was brought to port safely without the loss of a man.

bombardment still was going on indicated opposition was negligible.

The great battleships all are armed with nine sixteen-inch guns each, hurling projectiles weighing better than a ton apiece. Each also has secondary five-inch batteries useful for close inshore bombardment, with shells weighing more than fifty pounds.

History Making Feat

The heavy cruisers Chicago and Quincy are sisters of the Baltimore class, mounting nine eight-inch guns each in triple turrets and also have secondary five-inch batteries.

The eight-inch guns can fire their 250-pound projectiles accurately about seventeen miles.

The bold action demonstrates how much air strength the Japanese expended in their futile defense of Okinawa. Their refusal to come to fight off the Third fleet's planes over Tokyo Tuesday undoubtedly prompted Adm. Halsey to risk the present history-making bombardment.

Third fleet power now is hitting the Japanese homeland along an arc of more than 400 miles, deep into the Hokkaido airfields of the north.

Targets of the carrier planes included air bases, shipping warehouses and railroads, particularly rail ferries linking the two islands, but first eyewitness accounts from the fleet said some primary targets were blacked out by the fog so that secondary targets were bearing the brunt of the onslaught.

Japanese air interception was non-existent and anti-aircraft fire was wild and inaccurate, although plentiful.

First fragmentary reports of the strike's results included destruction of a large warehouse and two small vessels off Hokkaido.

Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey's free-roving Third fleet which included Vice Adm. John S. McCain's powerful Aerial Task Force 38, moved up from the waters off Tokyo under cover of the very fog which was hampering the assault.

Action Continues

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, in a communique announcing the action, said it began at dawn and continues "at the present time."

In spearing more than 800 miles farther north than any major Pacific fleet has ventured so far in the war off Japan, Halsey's force is carrying the attack to the only part of the enemy homeland previously untouched by offensive blows.

Halsey moved boldly north after his fleet, standing off Tokyo bay, had failed to find the hiding enemy air force in strength during an attack last Tuesday.

The new onslaught, disclosed shortly after Adm. Chester W. Nimitz had reported Halsey's fleet last month rode out a typhoon in which twenty-one of the warships were damaged, followed by twenty-four hours a blast at five enemy centers on Japan by more than 500 Superfortresses.

Today's targets were airfields just as they were when the raiders roamed over all the Tokyo area Tuesday, unable to find appreciable opposition in the air but destroying or damaging 152 planes on the ground and shooting down two snipers near the fleet.

Surprise Again Achieved

The Japanese are known to have planes based on airfields north of Tokyo. Hokkaido has twenty (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

St. John's College Purchase Approved By Navy Secretary

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The navy said today Secretary Forrestal has approved an order allocating $750,000 for the purchase of St. John's college, Annapolis, Md., subject to the approval of the House and Senate Naval Affairs committees.

The action was described as a "bookkeeping move," leaving the status of the acquisition essentially unchanged.

Alla Nazimova, Siren Of Silent Screen, Dies

LOS ANGELES, July 13 (AP)—Alla Nazimova, 66, tempestuous siren of the silent screen, died today in Good Samaritan hospital after a brief illness that interrupted her plans to return to the stage in a production of her own.

Until the last, she had assumed character roles in numerous recent pictures, including "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," "In Our Time," and "Since You Went Away."

She returned to Hollywood in 1938 at the age of 59 after an absence of thirteen years, during which she played in her own stage productions in Russian dramas.

Russian-born Mme. Nazimova, who came to the United States in 1905, learned English in five months and immediately thereafter became the toast of Broadway.

Whereabouts of Japanese Air Power Is Major Mystery of War in Pacific

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Associated Press War Analyst

The whereabouts of what is left of Japanese air power, variously estimated at anywhere up to 9,000 ships of all types, is now a major mystery of the war in the east.

Whatever it is, it has put in no appearance of consequence in weeks except for suicide forays off Okinawa.

The story is the same from the Southern Dutch Indies, in China and over Japan itself. In Northern China, where the main Japanese army and no doubt a considerable portion of army air strength is concentrated, it obviously would be in Japanese interest to keep their planes grounded and concealed. That would serve two useful enemy purposes.

It would make efforts of American long range strategic air forces to find and destroy them on the ground more difficult of execution. It would also avert "incidents" with Russia. A Japanese plane even inadvertently flying over Russian deployments could be troublesome and Tokyo knows it. It is taking a chance.

American tactical air force commanders assume that the enemy planes in Japan itself are being withheld from action to await actual invasion day. They take it for granted that mass "suicide" assaults are the weapon of desperation on which Tokyo is relying to fend off final and complete military disaster.

Reports from American air force patrols ranging over Northern China do not bear that out. It has been officially stated recently that signs of air ferrying of planes from Japan to Northern China have been detected. There was no American estimate of the extent of that movement.

A Japcast now quotes a high Tokyo aviation authority as pleading for total concentration of war effort on plane production on the ground that American air developments on Okinawa must be shattered if amphibious invasion of Japan is to be prevented. The statement implied that to await actual landing attempts would be too late.

That is only one fragment of a growing tendency of Radio Tokyo to let out intimations of rising internal dissatisfaction in Japan with the conduct of the war. Just how much that actually means is beyond estimation from the outside but it has some significance. There is too much smoke for there to be no fire at all.

LISTEN WORLD!

—By Elsie Robinson
(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

These acres where our ranch now lies were once the homes of an Indian tribe. Like all the Indians, they roamed far and wide, but always they returned to this, their central gathering place.

Until some twenty years ago, the oldest members of their tribe remained. The great oak, under which they sheltered still is here. Their flint arrows are scattered underneath the mold. Their path down to the nearest spring is still distinct, and their chief's long grave is laid across our trail. We have many hollowed rocks and pestles with which they used to grind their corn.

There is one beside me as I write. A bowl of stone—and the longer stone that hollowed out that bowl. I sit here, thinking and grope for words. I sit here thinking of the brown and patient hands which ground that bowl, and paved the way for my white feet to climb. I do not know the name of that old chief whose bones I pass each time I pass the trail. I only know his courage and his faith prepared the way for me.

He had no book except the greatest book of all: The Book of Nature and an un-named God. He had no skill except the energy to meet each need. There were no stores to answer his emergencies. He wore no shirt to pin a medal on, and yet he blazed a trail as truly for our way of life as any soldier fighting on our front today. We owe to him our dream of liberty.

We speak of making peace for those that are to come. I wish we might remember those who have gone—those obscure Indians, who've gone back to earth, but whose brief glimpses a better dream prepared our blueprint of democracy.

Sugar and victory

V-E Day has passed. But V-J Day is still ahead. The need for sugar... that indispensable energy food... continues to be in heavy demand.

At the direction of the Government supplies are moving at an increased rate to our armed forces, our allies, and to help in feeding people in liberated lands.

Due to a prolonged drought in Cuba, stocks of raw cane sugar from the Caribbean area, which serves our Atlantic Coast and Gulf refineries, are off greatly in volume.

These are some of the reasons why our Government has placed tighter rationing restrictions on household and on institutional and industrial users of refined sugar.

We have learned to accept wartime shortages all along the line. Use your sugar stamps, but use them wisely... and make a little do a lot.

How much we owe them, those who have no names. Those who were kindly when a hungry stranger wandered into camp, those who thanked God when harvest corn was ripe... who prayed to the Great Father when they lacked for rain... who painted, with crude clay, the caves of France.

They were "poor savages" by modern reckoning and yet they had within them God's own flaming spark. They were a part of man's long climb from out the jungle ooze and swamp.

Through all the centuries, they carried the torch on which we depend today. They fought, with fearful odds against the jungle fang and claw. They knew no comforts. Life was filled with dread and yet they dared to dream of kindness and of decency. Brown hands—brown hands—that smoothed the trail for my white feet to tread. And so I make my prayer:

For those who've gone as well as for those who come, we thank Thee, Father God, and ask Thee strength to fight. Give us the wisdom to respect that spark you placed, so long ago, within their common clay. Give us the courage to hold high the torch they had lighted in the cave homes to their day. Give us humility to keep the faith with those brown hands which set us on our way. Amen.

Twenty-five operational airfields. Eight northern districts of Honshu have about the same number of airdromes.

Tokyo's previously attacked airfield network exceeds seventy. Complete tactical surprise again was achieved by the dawn-striking first waves of Hellcats and Corsairs in today's operation, aimed at pursuing the enemy air force as it has steadily withdrawn and hid out since its last big onslaught on recently-occupied Okinawa.

As in Tuesday's strike, Vice Adm. John S. McCain headed up the carrier task force.

Nimitz's terse report that "the operations are being conducted in approximately the same strength" as on Tuesday suggested at least four big aircraft carriers and four battleships were involved.

It seems apparent that the carrier planes, sweeping over a big area of North Honshu and Hokkaido, should find a considerable number of planes pulled back from the Tokyo sector.

Before today, the northernmost point on Japan hit by American planes was Sendai, 190 miles north of Tokyo, which was firebombed by Superforts before dawn July 10 in a raid co-ordinated with the earlier fleet strike.

In addition to pursuing the destruction of Japan's remaining air strength—now estimated to total about 9,000 planes including from 4,000 to 5,000 trainers and obsolete combat types—the present operation will achieve two more objectives.

One will be complete reconnaissance of an area which Americans have not had an opportunity to explore since the war's beginning.

The second is to close more tightly the blockade ring around Japan.

The fleet disclosure came shortly after Gen. Douglas MacArthur at Manila had reported his Okinawa-based Fifth air force planes had resumed attacks on Kyushu, southern island of Japan.

Nimitz reported that Okinawa-based corsairs of the Second marine aircraft wing heavily damaged a radio station at Sata Miski on Kyushu Wednesday, and also struck enemy bases in the Ryukyus north and south of Okinawa. In the Sakishima group, Southern Ryukyus, they damaged seven small surface craft.

By DR. GEORGE GALUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., July 13 — Wives whose husbands are stationed abroad with the American occupation forces look forward to the day when they may be permitted to visit their husbands, but the question is — who will pay for such trips?

If the government were to pay the cost of transporting wives overseas, the money would of course have to come eventually from the taxpayers. How does the public feel about that? A poll by the Institute finds that the reaction is mixed. The largest number say the government should pay, but it is not a majority. About one-third believe that the cost should be borne in whole or part by the servicemen or their families.

People in the survey were questioned as follows:

"It has been suggested that wives of servicemen be permitted to visit their husbands who have to stay abroad to police conquered countries. Do you approve or disapprove of this plan?"

Approve 64%
Disapprove 29%
No Opinion 7%

"How do you think these trips should be paid for — by the government or by the people themselves?"

Government should pay 49%
People should pay 30%
Gov't. and families share cost 5%
No Opinion 23%

When General Eisenhower was asked about such visits upon his arrival here last month, he said that living conditions in Germany were still too chaotic to warrant any immediate encouragement of trips there.

The British, however, are reported to be contemplating plans to allow wives and families of British occupation troops to pay short visits to Europe. The ban of the British and American armies against troops fraternizing with Germans has stimulated interest in proposals to allow such visits.

Centuries ago, a tribesman on one of the Malay Islands discovered the principle of the diesel engine.

Patent Is Granted To Celanese

United States Letters Patent No. 2,380,003 was granted to Celanese Corporation of America this week. Issued on an application of William Whitehead, the patent relates to the production of compact, composite, bonded yarn. According to this patent, strong yarns of stretched, saponified cellulose acetate or other organic esters of cellulose are twisted or otherwise associated with thermoplastic yarns having a basis of cellulose acetate to form a composite yarn.

Radcliffe Sticks For Air Monopoly

PROPOSERS of a commercial
trans-Atlantic airline monopoly,
among whom is included Senator George E. Radcliffe, of this state, are continuing their efforts although faced with difficulties with regard to the status of Baltimore.
The Civil Aeronautics Board has ruled against a proposal by those favoring the monopoly, which would have the effect of barring Baltimore, and many other important places, as a trans-Atlantic air terminal. A Senate committee has also listed the McCarran measure,
providing for the same thing, as a dead duck.
Proposals have now planned an appeal from the C. A. B. ruling.
"We are going ahead and assembling our facts in preparation for the filing of an appeal," Radcliffe is quoted as saying in a dispatch from Washington, which states that he and Senator Tydings have arranged to meet Monday with Chairman Welch Pogue, of the C. A. B. "All this will take some time," he continued, "and we felt it would be better to proceed with some care."
But the whole question is exceedingly complex, he added, being tied up with the question now before Congress as to whether domestic air lines should carry foreign commerce and vice versa.
But Radcliffe holds with regard to the latter, a substitute for the McCarran bill, that a monopoly
would not be created by it but that it merely provides that "American companies doing a foreign business shall not do a domestic one or if doing a domestic business shall not do a foreign one." He also believes the substitute is "advantageous generally and would benefit especially Maryland, rather than injure it."
If the substitute is anything like the McCarran measure, of which it is probably a modification with the underlying purpose included, the senator is denying of his nut in trying to make it appear that a monopoly would not be created and that Baltimore, Cumberland and other airport cities of the state and those elsewhere affected would be benefited.

An Invitation That Should Be Extended

LOCATION of the headquarters of the United Nations organization
in the United States has been proposed by Senator Wiley (R-Wis.).
Wiley has introduced a resolution,
which would have the Senate issue
an invitation for designation of this country as the headquarters.
Supporting the proposal, the Wisconsin senator pointed out that the United States possesses unequalled facilities for housing, transportation
and communication; that its atmosphere is untouched by "clouds of dread and bitterness which mar
the Old World; that it has a free press, occupies a position of military, industrial, spiritual and political leadership, and has the pioneer
spirit of a young nation."
All of which is true and should be appealing to the signatory nations.
This is the cradle of individual liberty, and a spirit of freedom exists
here beyond anything obtaining anywhere else in the world, providing an atmosphere most conducive to success of the purposes of the new world organization.
The selection of San Francisco as
the place for holding the conference
where the world security organization was rounded out was a most fortunate thing. The selection of that city, by reason of its position
midway between the Orient and the Occident, as well as for the reasons assigned by Senator Wiley would be a similarly happy choice for the permanent organization.
At any rate, the invitation should
be extended.

Presidential Term Should Be Limited

CONSIDERABLE DISCUSSION
has resulted from the proposal by Representative Joseph W. Martin, of Massachusetts, Republican leader
in the House, for immediate adoption of a constitutional amendment limiting presidents to two terms of four years each.
Included also is consideration of his accompanying proposal that presidents of $25,000 a year be granted
former presidents and that they have life seats in either the House
or the Senate.
The first proposal is timely even though it is not new. Limitation of the presidential tenure has frequently been proposed in the past
and the Senate has acted upon it,
although the House has always dodged it.
Much of the opposition to third and fourth terms came in recent years from those who were opposed to Franklin D. Roosevelt and who depreciated his breaking of a tradition long held. Naturally it was difficult to get an accurate registration of public question on the tenure question when he was continuing in office because it was impossible for many to separate the issue from the man and his existing potentialities as president, which were cumulative the longer he remained in office.
But now the question can be discussed as a matter of principle
divorced from personalities and accumulated power, and it is a good thing that interest is being revived in it as the result of Rep.
Martin's proposal.
There are some who would rather limit the presidency to a single term of, say, six years, as has also been proposed at different times.
In the past, whether six or eight years is the proper limitation is yet open to debate, but one or the other should be adopted for obvious reasons.
The two-term plan, however, has one distinct advantage, to which Martin has pointed. It is that it would give the people an earlier chance to pass upon the merits of presidential policy and if they should be deemed unsatisfactory a new executive would be chosen. Certainly four years is sufficient time

for any president to formulate his policies and time enough for the people to judge those policies.
The limitation plan has two outstanding advantages. One is that it would serve as a check against the totalitarian or dictatorial forms
of government; the other that it would go a long way toward assuring equality among the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the government.
The proposal to have the country
avail itself of the services of an ex-president in a legislative capacity is a good one. The suggested pension of $25,000 a year does not,
however, fit in with present conditions in view of income tax ex-actions. A man considered by the people to be sufficiently able to be president could make much more than what would be left as income
from such an allowance in private business or profession, perhaps an exemption here would answer.

Langer Keeps Gunning For New Navy Uniform

SENATOR WILLIAM LANGER,
(R-N.D.), member of the Senate Judiciary committee, is sticking to his guns for an improvement in the cut of sailors' jibs.
Langer has accompanied a letter to the "Coast Guard Magazine," a dispatch from Annapolis relates, in which he continues his advocacy
of a change in seagoing garb with an article entitled "Anchors Aweigh—Away with That Uniform," which he had written for publication in the service journal.
The present enlisted navy men's uniform was characterized as "a ridiculous ensemble" by the senator.
Stating that he was thoroughly convinced the majority of enlisted personnel disliked the "style of their pants and the cut of their jumpers,"
the senator added his observations
to arguments against the uniform prescribed for navy enlisted men by describing the outfit as "skin tight
where a bit of slack would be appropriate," full of "slack where a reefing in would make it fit and look better; short where it should be long, with a yard of cloth for a collar and all the inconveniences of a straight jacket."
The navy suit was designed for sailing days," he said further. "It was fitted tight to prevent loose
folds from becoming fouled in rigging. The bell-bottom trousers made it easy for the goby to roll up his trousers whenever decks were washed. The blouse is difficult to get into or take off, and the floppy collar
and dangling black tie are nuisances."
According to expressions by navy
men who have been here in Cumberland, either on leave or through discharges, Langer is quite correct
in saying that the majority of the navy men dislike the present uniform styles.

Nylon Hose May Be "Hex" Stockings

WOMEN will never know what they have on their feet when they wear nylon hose, according to a bulletin from the Du Pont published bureau, which states that the material is supposed to be made of coal,
air and water. When a new salt
plant is constructed at Orange,
Tex., the chief ingredient of nylon will be salt, and associated with
it will be natural gas and petroleum.
Supporting the future benefits of this to keep watch lest "hubby" discover the nylon hose to put in the family car for a joy ride. But nylon has permanently replaced Japanese silk and is strictly an American product.
Manufacture of the new type of nylon is explained in the release
by Du Pont, but it is so involved that the layman flinches from it in a daze. Included in the chemical process in addition to the sodium hydroxide and hydrochloric acid are such lawbreakers as adipic acid,
hexamethylene diamine and cyclohexane. The public, adept at shortening names of products, may simply call them "hex" stockings.

The Nips are reported adding to their menu by eating mulberry leaves. It looks as though the silkworm is not only out of a job but has lost its source of food.

DIVINE DISCONTENT

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
There is always a world of hope for the person who suddenly becomes most discontented. You can put it down to such one has in his working system, a healthy growing pains well at an important job!
The world admires the one who
will protest against mere boundaries.
To be stimulated by the desire to learn something that one does not know is evidence of a healthy state of mind. Try something—anything—
even a dozen times over, if it contains the germ of an idea that has possibilities for growth.
Bear in mind that, no matter how good anything is, it can be made better, and no matter how good an idea someone else may have, do not forget there may be a better one!
To be discontented with your mode
of life, or with the job you hold, can mean nothing else than that you are probably fitted for something better,
so you had better move into a happier station while the urge is on.
The best expression that one creates is when he is most away from himself. In imagination the spirit soars! One should not worry over suddenly becoming restless.
There is movement before a storm,
and in the same matter there is
movement in all the creative faculties
of the human mind when big ideas
and undertakings are afoot.
Divine discontent is a spiritual phenomenon, and it is well that it is recognized as such. I like that statement of Robert Browning's
where he said that "a man's reach should exceed his grasp, or what is Heaven for?"
It is dangerous for anyone to get into the state of mind where he is perfectly satisfied. That usually means a settling down, and a gradually rusting away. Use of one's faculties, and their constant polishing and refining, is what stimulates growth of mind and spirit. Ease almost always suggests decay and a backing down the hill.
Dare to think. Dare to try new things. Dare to let the dead past stand alone. Dare to go forward. Dare to stand alone, if necessary. Even dare to make mistakes! Then walk past them with a rapid tread!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Delay in Revision of Army Point Plan Is Causing Headaches for Several Millions

By DREW PEARSON

Washington.—When the War department announced its demobiliza-tion plan on May 12, it set up the eighty-five point requirement for discharge and also announced that a revised figure would be given within forty-five days or by June 27.
It is now July 14, and millions of men are still waiting for that announcement.

Meanwhile more headaches, heart-
aches and resentment have developed over discharges than almost anything in the army. Some of this is unavoidable. Some, on the other hand, seems due to army inefficiency, including the amount of discretion allowed individual officers and units.

For instance, the air forces set up a separate demobilization program in some areas, and at Las Vegas, Nev., began releasing young officers by the hundreds. There was such a surplus of second lieutenants
that those with only forty-two points were let out. First lieutenants with only fifty-eight points were discharged, and captains with only seventy points were permitted to leave the service.

Meanwhile enlisted men who still need eighty-five points to get out
are burning up.
Part of the irregularity in administering the point system results
from the fact that each commanding officer has the right to reject a man's application for discharge
—no matter how many points he has—by declaring him "essential."
Obviously certain key technical men fall into the category and cannot be spared. Also it is much more practical to use trained veterans than to break in new men. However, there is increasing resentment
from battle-scarred veterans with points galore, some of whom feel they are kept in the service because of some gripe or prejudice on the part of commanding officers.

Too Many Generals

An unfortunate attitude also is growing among enlisted men that the generals don't want the army
scaled down. There are 1,600 generals in the army today, many of them lieutenant colonels or even captains before the war. And enlisted men are wondering whether
"essential" and "military necessity"
aren't sometimes convenient excuses
for keeping army manpower padded.
For, if the army is cut too sharply,
a large number of general officers will be retired. This view does not make for morale, but unfortunately it exists among enlisted men.

One thing which G.I.'s can't understand is why the army, when fighting a two-front war, was willing to release a man over 38 if he had a war job; whereas today, when
with only a one-front war, the army
has upped the age limit to 40.

Another thing the army can't adequately explain is why they've established so few Separation Centers to handle discharges, and why
one of them, Camp Dix, N. J., is so poorly run that it was recently subjected to a complete investigation by the inspector general's office.

One group especially restless are the limited service men—men with physical infirmities, who were drafted for non-combat service and hence can never go abroad to roll up discharge points. They are at the bottom of the discharge barrel
and probably can't get out until the end of the war.

Obviously, these are complex problems and extremely difficult for the army to solve. Actually,
though, they aren't announcing army personnel experts are working on a new system, but it's not likely to hatch until the end of the summer or fall. Meanwhile the discharge snafu continues.

Note.—One thing that especially gripes enlisted men is that, while they aren't supposed to write to their congressmen, the brass has troop up to Capitol Hill in droves
and even maintain a special lobbying agency in Congress to convince the legislators of their own efficiency.

Truman Wins at Poker

One complaint President Truman constantly makes to old friends
in the Senate is: "You don't know how lonely I am."
But the president was not lonely
on his last night in Independence,
Mo. It was one of his most enjoyable evenings there he entered the White House. Truman spent it playing poker with old friends, all members of the "Happy Club," an organization of Independence businessmen, founded in 1925. The game was at the home of Louis L. Compton, owner and manager of an Independence Bottling Works.
Truman, as the home-town boy
who made good, was given the honor of dealing the first hand. It was dealer's choice and he chose seven-card stud.

All players, nine of them, dropped out except the President and John Hutchinson, an Independence coal dealer. Six cards were dealt. Hutchinson had two jacks showing and another jack down.

The president, who had bluff-ed Hutchinson into two raises, had two queens showing and nothing
down except a nine-spot and a seven-spot.

Came the last card. Hutchinson drew a tray, Truman a queen. That gave the president three queens to Hutchinson's three jacks, and he raked in the pot.

It amounted to $1.65.
Note.—Missouri friends are hoping Truman will be just as good a poker player when he sits down
with the best of all diplomatic card-
sharks—Joe Stalin.

Capital Chase

One off-the-record factor which brought the showdown on Morgen-thau's resignation was the report
that Judge Fred Vinson was going with Truman to Berlin. Hearing this, Morgenstern decided it was time
for him to move in and find out where he stood.
Truman wasn't ready for Morgen-thau's resignation, had wanted him to stay on till V-J day, though he always wanted Vinson to be his eventual secretary of the treasury.
Morgenstern has just about completed a sizzling book on our post war policy toward Germany.
A lot of ears will burn if he finally decides to release it. . . . Painstaking

Dissatisfied, he has begun studying

his next ambition. . . . Correction:
In paying tribute to the commanding officers of the U.S.S. Pittsburgh, which helped rescue the wounded
airplane carrier Franklin, this column recently listed the executive officer of the Pittsburgh as Cmdr.
Rivers instead of Rivero. Commander Rivero is one of the few Puerto Rican naval officers in the U.S.
Navy. An Annapolis graduate, he is extremely modest, retiring, and a brilliant officer. As previously reported, he remained thirty-seven hours on the fantail of the Pittsburgh, watching the towline which brought the Franklin out of range
of Japanese planes.

Release of a group of interned

ment over the way Rankin had decided the Congressional Record to make Tarver's part in a debate with Rankin look foolish. Tarver made a motion to alter the Record by in-serting the original stenographic
transcript of the argument between himself and Rankin, rather than Rankin's amended version. The Ayes were called. Cox sheepishly rose and started to vote for his Georgia colleague, Tarver. But he

PARSONS, W. Va., July 13—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Ball, Blackman's flat, Parsons, announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Betty Sue, to Sgt. W. R. "Tuck" Plum, Eglin field, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Plum, Parsons.

The single ring ceremony was performed Sunday, July 8, at 12:30 p.m., with the Rev. Alvah K. Jones, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Red House, Md., officiating. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Plum, Hambleton, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a street length dress of aqua blue with white accessories and a corsage of talisman rose buds. Mr. Plum is a graduate of Parsons high school in the class of 1944.

Sgt. Plum was graduated from Parsons high school in 1939 and served in New Guinea for thirty months until a few months ago, when he was returned to the United States. He is now stationed at Eglin field with the army air corps. He will return there Tuesday. The bride will reside with her parents for the time being.

Marriage Is Announced

Announcement is made of the marriage of Pvt. Norine Stemple, stationed with the WAC at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, to Sgt. Kenneth Parsons, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsons.

The single ring ceremony was read in the parsonage of St. John's church Monday evening, July 9, with the Rev. R. E. Hiller, pastor, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hardy, Parsons, were the only attendants.

The bride, a daughter of Mrs. Midgetta Stemple, St. George, and the late John Stemple, was graduated from Parsons high school in 1942 and completed her basic training at Fort Des Moines last week. Sgt. Parsons is a graduate of Parsons high school in the class of 1942 and entered the service in February 1943. He was in France and Germany for five months and wears the European theater ribbon with two combat stars and the Good Conduct medal.

Following a short honeymoon the bride will return to Fort Des Moines and the bridegroom will report to Fort George G. Meade, Md., for re-assignment.

White Ridge school painted and the roof of the Hamrick school resurfaced.

New work will include the laying of a new cement foot bridge and walks to the Parsons high school; new storm windows added to the Thomas and Davis school buildings; and the painting of the class rooms in Davis high school. The Pierce and Douglas schools will be re-roofed before the schools reopen.

Service Relatives Visit Aunt Miss Molly Pill, Parsons, had six nieces and nephews in the service visiting her during the past week.

One of them, Jack Pill, signalman with the navy, is now stationed at Charleston, S. C., after thirty months overseas. He wears the Atlantic theater ribbon with one combat star for the invasion of Southern France. Signalman Pill was reared by his aunt here and was employed in the Tucker county hospital prior to his entrance into the service.

Sgt. James Pill, brother of Jack, is home after twenty-seven months in the European theater and wears the paratrooper's medal with two stars; the Good Conduct medal; the Combat Infantryman badge; four overseas service stripes; one service bar; a presidential citation ribbon; and the European theater ribbon with two stars for the Sicilian and Italian invasions.

Tech. Sgt. Richard Pill, another brother who was with the Fifth "Red Diamond" division of the Third army, recently received his discharge through the point system after serving for thirty-nine months overseas where he served in Iceland, England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, and Czechoslovakia. He wears the European theater ribbon with six combat stars; the Asiatic-Pacific theater ribbon; the Good Conduct medal; the Silver Star with one cluster for leading a company in the capture of a German town; the Bronze Star with six clusters; the Combat Infantryman badge; the pre-Pearl Harbor service ribbon and the American defense ribbon. He entered the service December 4, 1940, and will enter employment in Akron, O., at the termination of his visit here.

Another brother, Seaman Second Class Roger Pill, has served with the navy in the Southwest Pacific for the past year. Two nieces, both graduates of Parsons high school, the Misses Betty and Lois Knepp, are cadet students at St. Mary's training school for nurses in Clarksburg. Other guests at the Pill home include Miss Mary Pill, Akron, O.; and Mrs. Ruth Jefferies, Shinnston.

Receives Discharge Pfc. Wallace Miller, son of Dr. O. A. Miller, Parsons, was discharged July 6 from the army under the point system after serving since September 14, 1942, in the medical corps without having had a furlough home.

Pfc. Miller was sent to North Africa April 29, 1943, and later took part in the Sicilian, Naples, Foggia, Rome, Arno, and North Apennine campaigns.

He wears the Silver Star for gallantry in action, awarded for relieving several wounded soldiers from the battle front while subjected to heavy artillery fire. He also wears the Good Conduct medal; the European theater ribbon with five combat stars, and four overseas service stripes.

Pfc. Miller saw Cpl. Dennis Murphy, former clerk in the A and P store in Parsons, who was wounded in Italy several months ago. He also worked with Capt. Samuel Wiseman, former president of the Tucker county hospital in Parsons for four months.

Pfc. Miller was hospitalized three times during his overseas service, twice for malaria fever and once when he was leading an ambulance fleet removing the wounded by night from the Anzio beachhead. A large tank had been blown up by a shell in the middle of the road and Pfc. Miller, leading the ambulances, collided with the remains of the tank. His ambulance, carrying six soldiers, upset. For two days, Pfc. Miller lay in an unconscious condition in the hospital.

Wounded Vets Visit Here Two wounded veterans of the European theater of war are visiting their parents here on furlough from their hospital stations.

German sniper threw a white phosphorus grenade at him which exploded in his face and on his body. He wears the Good Conduct medal; the Purple Heart; and the ETO ribbon with three stars for the major battles of France, Rhineland and Central Europe. He also participated in the battle of the bulge in Belgium.

Cpl. Bohon, overseas for eleven months, served with the engineering corps. Prior to his entrance into the service he was employed by the government in Bermuda.

Pfc. Wayne Hebb is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hebb from Nicholas General hospital, Louisville, Ky., where he is receiving medical treatment for wounds of the right arm received April 9.

Ship Is Named For Oakland Soldier

Antwerp, Belgium, July 13. — During a recent dedication ceremony at the port of Antwerp, a U. S. Army ship was named for Sergeant Keith E. Selders, of Route 2, Oakland, Maryland, who lost his life while on duty with the Transportation Corps in the European Theater of Operations.

The ceremony was held at the American docks, where the Army paid tribute to 11 soldiers and civilians of the Transportation Corps as 11 harbor craft vessels were christened in their memory. Four plaques made up of all the Harbor Craft Companies at the Post attended the dedication and paid honor to their fallen comrades.

The dedication address was delivered by Colonel Curtis A. Noble, deputy port commander, who said that these men "have contributed in no small measure to the magnificent accomplishment in supplying and transporting the combat forces which have finally overcome and conquered the most dangerous attempt against freedom of mankind which the world has ever known."

Flying their flags and pennants in dressed ship array, the vessels were christened by Colonel Noble, and Captain Martin S. Durkin, port chaplain, invoked blessings on them and offered prayers in memory of the men whose names they now bear.

Jenkins Replies To Wage Charges Of Mine Workers

Coal Company Manager
Cites Pay Record of Fifteen Miners

Replying to charges of striking miners that working conditions in the Swanton mine of the Kootz Coal Company, Barton, are such that they are unable to earn a "decent" wage, James Jenkins, manager of the mine, declared last night that the men can make a living if they are willing to work and cited figures to support his contention.

Jenkins presented figures listing the names of fifteen miners, the total hours they worked, their total earnings and average wage per hour for two pay periods, June 1 to June 15, inclusive, and June 16 to June 23, inclusive.

He pointed out that during the first pay period the mine worked thirteen days with each work day scheduled for nine hours. In the latter pay period, Jenkins said, the mine worked seven days, the last June 23.

Average $1.14 Hourly

Miners could have worked 117 hours, but Jenkins' figures showed that the most hours worked in the first pay period by any miner was 109½. This man averaged $1.14 an hour and had total earnings of $125. Jenkins stated.

At the other end of the scale, one miner worked but fifty-four and three-quarter hours, according to the figures, had total earnings of $62.94 and averaged $1.15 per hour. The lowest average hourly wage shown in the figures was ninety-seven cents. Jenkins' list indicated that this miner received a total of $86.51 for working eighty-nine and one-third hours.

Earned $81.55
In the second pay period, Jenkins listed a top average hourly wage of $1.66 for one miner who worked forty-nine and one-quarter hours and had total earnings of $81.55 for six days.

The lowest average hourly wage listed for the latter period was eighty-four cents, paid to a miner who, Jenkins said, worked thirty-two and one-quarter hours and received total earnings of $26.93.

Two Dogs Are Poisoned At Hill Top Drive Home

One of the two dogs poisoned in this city was returned to its home last evening in a good condition and the second was reported as responding well to treatment and likely to recover.

The dual poisoning, first to be reported in this city for three months, occurred early last evening when a dog belonging to Mrs. Harry Smith, 521 Hill Top drive, and a neighbor's dog became ill after eating a poisoned bone which Mrs. Smith told police, had been thrown into her front yard.

More serious than the possibility of the loss of the animals, police were told, was the fact that two of the Smith children, one 18 months and the other 3 years old, customarily play in the yard where the poisoning occurred.

Authorities said similar occurrences have been reported in the neighborhood in the past.

Six Soldiers Killed In German Train Crash

WEINGARTEN, Germany, July 13. — Six American soldiers were killed and twenty-eight injured when a redeployment-bound train and a freight collided near here early this morning.

All were members of the sixty-fifth armored infantry battalion of the Twentieth armored division, which is scheduled for an early sailing from LeHavre.

August Lindemeyer, German tower operator at Durloch, five miles from the wreck scene, has been arrested and is being held for investigation, said Lt. Col. Earnest E. Foulks, of the army transportation corps. Foulks said Lindemeyer gave the freight a clear track.

Two Local Soldiers Are in Hospitals

Pvt. Ivan L. Crawford, son of Mrs. Laura Crawford, 736 Baker street, and T-5 C. W. Davis, 108 Greenwood street, have arrived at Newton D. Baker hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., for treatment. Crawford, in the army a month, formerly attended Fort Hill high school.

Pfc. Crawford was employed at the Kelly-Springfield plant. Davis, also a former Fort Hill student, served nine months overseas with a medical detachment of the Tenth armored division. He wears the Bronze Star and the ETO ribbon with battle stars.

Junior Extension Club Plans Outings

The Cumberland Junior Extension Club went on a hay ride, earlier in the week, and formulated plans for two more outings, which will be held instead of the regular business sessions.

A campfire was planned for August 1, but the place will be announced later. It was also decided to hold a weekend camp September 8 and 9, at Pleasant Valley Recreation Area, and a committee on arrangements was appointed.

Twenty-nine members attended the hay ride which required two hours. Paul Greise drove the team and the route made a circle including Nikes Gross Road, Bedford road, Union Grove road, Mason road and back to the cross road.

Receives Bronze Star
Pfc. Jackson P. Bagley, son of Mrs. Ethel Bagley, Ellerslie, recently received the Bronze Star for heroic action with the Fifth army in Italy.

Pfc. Bagley, with the Three Hundred and Thirty-eighth infantry regiment of the Eighty-fifth division, as a member of a ten-man assault team on reconnaissance patrol, rushed an enemy position, killing one German and capturing another.

SOLDIERS' MEDAL IS AWARDED SNYDER

With U. S. Forces in Belgium
Two men of the 186th Port Company have been awarded the Soldiers' Medal for heroism performed while on duty in Antwerp, Belgium.

Sergeant Clare D. Bush, of Tekonsha, Michigan, and Corporal James E. Snyder, of Mt. Savage, Maryland, were presented the medals by Colonel Leon V. Chaplin, commandant of the Antwerp port troops, for their action following an enemy strafing attack.

During the Germans' winter counter-offensive, enemy planes strafed and set fire to two of 23 train-car loads of gasoline which the two soldiers were guarding at Louvain, Belgium. They immediately ordered a Belgian train crew to hook an engine to the train and at the same time uncoupled the wagons to shunt that portion of the train to an isolated spur. Enroute to this spur and with disregard for personal safety, the men boarded the burning cars and threw off enough cans of gasoline to keep the fire from spreading.

It was only through the courageous and efficient action of Sgt. Bush and Cpl. Snyder that the remainder of the loaded train, the rail yards and other railway facilities in the area were saved from destruction.

Sgt. Bush's wife, Mrs. Ruth E. Bush, lives at Route 2, Tekonsha. He was employed by the Wagner Cartage Company before entering the service on July 30, 1942.

Cpl. Snyder, who entered the service January 20, 1943, is the husband of Mrs. Christina Snyder, of Mt. Savage. He was employed by the Celanese Corporation at Cumberland, Md.

Commission To Appeal Decision Denying Them City Property Offices

The Civil Service Commission will appeal the decision of Hunter B. Helfrich, commissioner of streets and public property, denying the commission office space in a city building, before the mayor and council.

June 25 the mayor and council turned the request over to Helfrich with the power to act on the matter. The rooms in question are three on the second floor of the city hall, vacated when the health department moved to the public safety building.

Helfrich's letter to the commission asked for an accounting of office furniture purchased by the commission and ordered it placed on city property. H. Clifford Spiker, chairman of the commission, stated that the furniture had not been delivered and that it had been ordered placed in the city hall.

Three More Charges Are Placed against Koonitz

Jack Koonitz, 19, who was captured Thursday noon, sixteen hours after he slugged a deputy sheriff and escaped from the county jail, will be charged with breaking jail, assaulting an officer and breaking into several business places after escaping Wednesday night from the jail authorities said yesterday.

Koonitz, described by officers as 4-F in the draft, had been held in jail for action of the October grand jury in theft cases. He was questioned yesterday by Morgan C. Harris, state's attorney.

The youth was captured in an upstairs apartment at 29 Arch street by Sgt. Raymond R. Johnston and Officer Frank A. Shober.

Congress Provided For Continental Army Chaplains

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:
My son's fiancée whom he met at an army post, claims her ancestors was an army chaplain to George Washington at Valley Forge. I understand there were no chaplains in the army at that time. Am I correct?

D. S.
The War department informs me that an act of the Continental Congress, passed July 5, 1776, provided that a chaplain be appointed for each regiment in the Continental army. I have no information concerning George Washington's chaplains, but war chaplains were employed in the American Army as commissioned officers.

National Cemeteries
Dear Miss Fairfax:
How many national cemeteries are there in the United States at present? Plans for others are under way.

Method of Computing Points
Dear Miss Fairfax:
Before being honorably discharged, after participating in the European war, a soldier must have eighty-five points. How do they win these points?

Points towards honorable discharge are computed as follows: (1) service credit—one point for each month of army service since September 16, 1940; (2) overseas credit—one point for each month served overseas since September 16, 1940; (3) combat service—five points for each award for service performed since September 16, 1940; (4) parenthood credit—twelve points for each child under 18 years, up to a limit of three children.

Service Discharges
Dear Miss Fairfax:
When a serviceman is released from the service, from what place does he get his discharge—his overseas post, the camp where he took boot training, or the enlistment center?

M. A. I.
It is the policy to discharge men at the separation center which is nearest their homes.

Furloughs for Servicemen
Dear Miss Fairfax:
The men who helped fight Germany and did not win sufficient points to be honorably discharged, I understand, will have to fight Japan. Will they get a furlough before they start for the Pacific?

SOLDIER'S MOTHER
Able-bodied men who fought in Germany and did not win sufficient points for discharge will be reassigned on the basis of military necessity. Practically all combat troops will be redeployed through the United States where they will receive thirty-day furloughs. Some service force troops have already been sent to the Pacific because they are needed for the construction of bases, roads, hospitals, etc. there.

If you're in the service—army, navy, marine corps, or coast guard—and you have a problem regarding insurance, allowances, allotments, maternity and infant care for wives and children, or desire the answer to any other service question, write to Beatrice Fairfax, care of this paper. If you wish a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Beatrice Fairfax lives in Washington, and will be glad to get in touch with War and Navy departments, through press liaison officers of these branches of the service, to give you problems correct answers. She will also answer questions in her column for those who do not ask for personal reply.

Safeguard Wins in Debut As Three Year Old

AQUEDUCT RACE TRACK, N. Y., July 13 (AP)—Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Safeguard, away from competition since finishing third in the Spinaway stakes last August, launched her three year old campaign in smart fashion before 26,219 fans today. The fleet chestnut daughter of Kapri was a handy one length winner of the featured Fairy Wand Purse, leading home seven others of her age and sex to return a liberal $20.70 for two.

Foxcatcher Farms's Surosa, victorious by eight lengths in her seasonal debut at Belmont park June 21, finished second in the role of a 13 to 2 favorite. Eight lengths behind came William Woodward's Segula to be third, making it a monopoly for the "3" horses. Safeguard under Ted Atkinson ran the six furlongs in 1:12 2-5. Last year she won two of her four starts.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our daughter and
sister, Edna Keller, who died one year ago,
July 13, 1944.

Her suffering ended with the day.
She lived yet as it close,
We breathe the long, long night away
in the quietude of repose,
When the sun, in all his state,
Illumed the Eastern skies,
We passed through glory's morning gate
and walked in Paradise.

Sadly missed by her Mother, Brothers
and Sisters. 7-13-11-TN

Kelly Shell Line Will Shut Down At 7 A. M. Today

Workers Will Be Transferred to Rubber Plant on Monday

Production of eight-inch shells at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant will end at 7 o'clock this morning, company officials said last night.

Some 270 shell line workers will be affected by the shutdown, brought about by a termination of a government contract, but officials of the company said that a large majority of both men and women workers will be transferred to the rubber plant. Those transfers will be effective Monday.

For a contribution to the war effort above vitally needed tires and tubes, for trucks, the Kelly plant turned in the summer of 1942 to the production of shells, a product entirely divorced from the rubber industry.

Half Million Shells
Success of the effort is shown, however, in the estimate that half a million shells were produced in the period from mid-1942 until this morning. Peak production on March 1 this year was 800 shells daily.

In September of 1942, the Kelly plant undertook the manufacture of fifty caliber cartridges but that production was discontinued October 1, 1943.

The first part of this year, because of the increased demand for eight-inch shells, another shell line was installed at the Kelly plant doubling the original capacity.

In the early part of May, however, shell production was reduced about fifty-seven per cent because of the end of the war in Europe, and the final shutdown takes place this morning.

With the cessation of shell production, the Kelly plant will have returned to its usual production of tires with the exception that they are headed for military use rather than for civilians.

Need More Help
Other than the need for additional help, tire production at the Kelly plant would be normal, officials said.

The return to rubber manufacturing alone at the Kelly plant records the end of rapidly changing production there.

The manufacture of tires and tubes for passenger cars was discontinued April 1, 1942, and re-conversion of the plant from small arms manufacture to tire production, which started October 1, 1943, brought nationwide publicity to the local concern.

Twelve Youths Will Enter Navy
Twelve 17-year-old navy volunteers from the Cumberland area will report to the local navy recruiting station next Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. before leaving for Baltimore to enter the navy on general assignment, according to Chief Petty Officer Walter B. Warme, in charge of the recruiting station.

Edward L. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. Williams, 24 Pennsylvania avenue, a graduate of Fort Hill high school this year, will be in charge of the group.

Others slated for the reserve are Ralph G. Ravenscroft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ravenscroft, Midland, an employee of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company; Allen C. Maphis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Maphis, of Romney, W. Va., a graduate of Romney High School, Class of 1945; Paul E. Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Shaffer, Mt. Lake Park, a junior at Oakland High School; Fred E. Kerns, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kerns, Frostburg, a sophomore at Beall High School; and Paul V. Monahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Monahan, 428 Columbia street.

Those to enter the regular Navy are Robert C. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Price, 6 Arch street, a graduate this year of Fort Hill High School; John R. Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard R. Arnold, Bedford, Pa., a graduate of Bedford High School, Class of 1945; Russell E. Slider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Slider, Twiggton Road, R. F. D. 4, Carlisle, W. Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Lewis, Cresaptown, a graduate of Oakland High School, Class of 1944; Donald K. Elyard, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Elyard, Davis, W. Va., a junior at Davis High School, and Vernon D. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder, Mt. Savage.

Chief Warme explained that those entering the Naval Reserve serve for the duration and six months. Those entering the regular Navy serve until their twenty-first birthday. They are not discharged at the end of the war, but remain in service until the termination of their enlistment.

Pfc. John Mertens Is Transferred to Kansas
Pfc. John E. Mertens, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Mertens, Bedford road, left Thursday to report to Liberal, Kan., after spending twelve days with his parents.

Pfc. Mertens, who is training as a tail gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress, has been transferred to Kansas from Kingman field, Ariz. His brother, Pfc. Elmer L. Mertens, who suffered leg injuries in a jeep accident in Germany May 25, is spending a thirty-day convalescent furlough at home before returning to Woodrow Wilson General hospital, Staunton, Va.

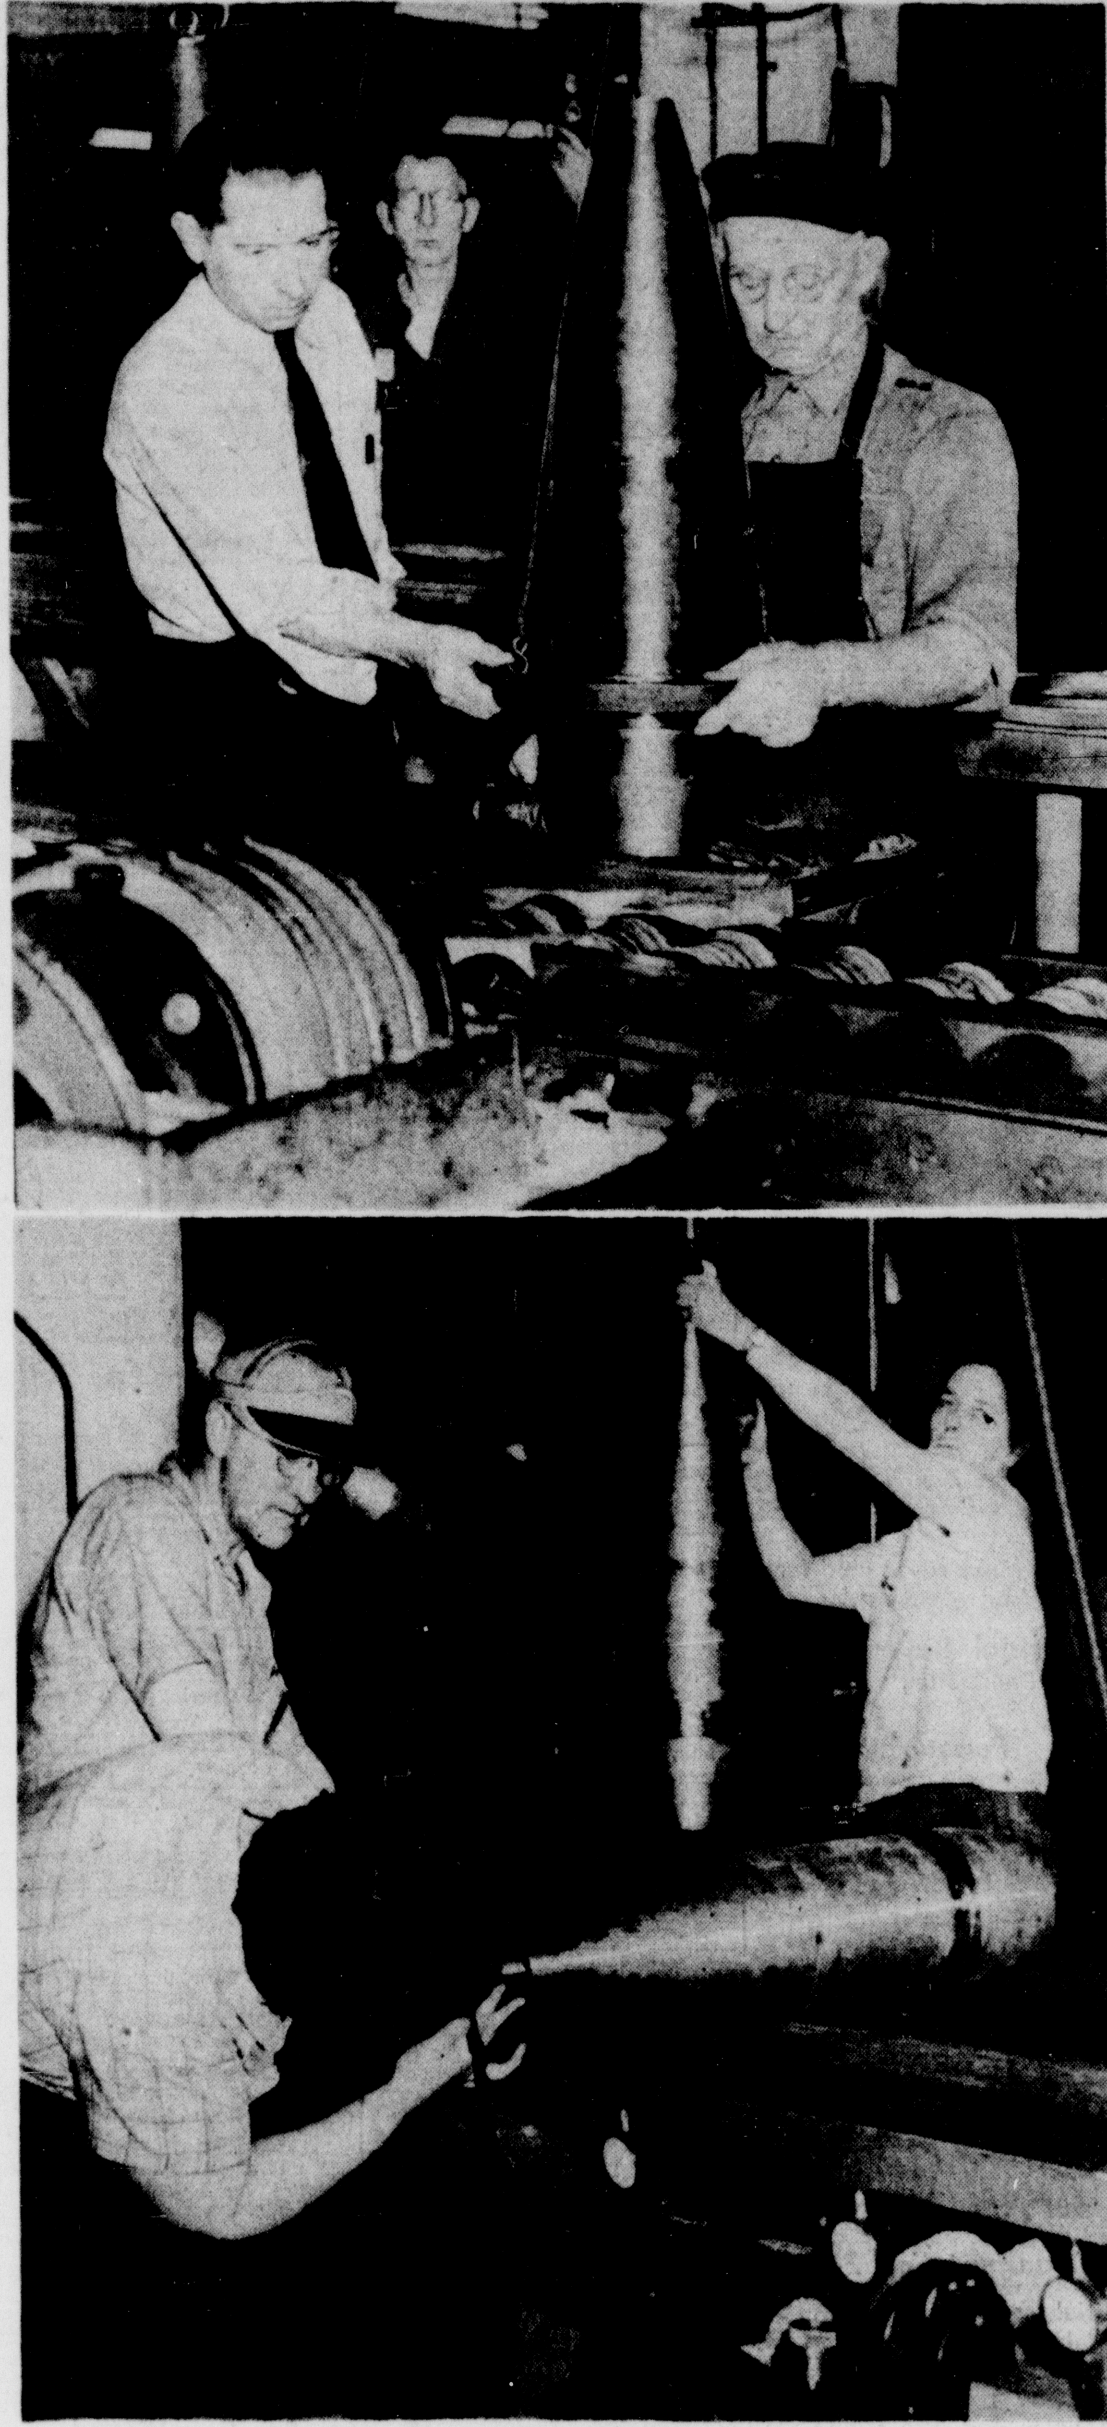

Dr. Richard Aspinwall Will Be Chief Speaker At Moose Initiation
Dr. Richard Aspinwall, president of West Virginia university, Morgantown, W. Va., will be guest speaker at initiation ceremonies to be held at the Moose home at 2 p. m. tomorrow by Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose.

The degree staff of the lodge, headed by Charles E. Pettie, will initiate a class of seventy-five candidates at the meeting. Robert Irvin, Washington, D. C., regional director, is expected to attend.

Following the initiation ceremonies and speaking program a social hour will be held, and refreshments will be served.

Local News in Brief
Window service at the local post office school, and noon today and every Saturday instead of at 1 p. m. was announced yesterday. James C. Shriver, postmaster, said that the action has been taken to reduce overtime pay and equalize working conditions for post office employees.

Station A at Virginia avenue and Third street will also observe the new Saturday closing time.

LaNeve Sells Cafe To J. W. Cornish
Sale of the Green Lantern cafe, North Liberty street, by Louis LaNeve to J. W. Cornish, Jr., Frostburg, was disclosed yesterday. The purchase price was listed at about $10,000.

LaNeve said the sale will be consummated when his alcoholic beverage license is transferred to Cornish by the circuit court. He added that that may take place the first of next month.

For the present, Cornish said, he plans no improvement to the property and will continue to operate it "as is."

LaNeve purchased the property in February 1943, and last night he sold the business because he wanted to devote more time to his work as salesman for the King Wine and Liquor Company, of Hagerstown. LaNeve also represents three nationally known distilleries and said he likewise will devote more time to that business.

At one time, LaNeve operated a cafe on Baltimore street but he sold that business in 1942 to Frank Molinari who now operates the Cadillac Cocktail lounge at that location.

Dr. Richard Aspinwall Will Be Chief Speaker At Moose Initiation
Dr. Richard Aspinwall, president of West Virginia university, Morgantown, W. Va., will be guest speaker at initiation ceremonies to be held at the Moose home at 2 p. m. tomorrow by Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose.

Surplus Defense Equipment May Be Put on Sale

Civilian Defense Director Asks County To Buy U. S. Property

Declaring that the state council of defense inactivated the civilian defense corps June 30, Dr. Robert W. Work, director of the county defense council, yesterday praised the board of county commissioners for their cooperation with him and asked for their backing in retaining some surplus equipment which may be made available for purchase by civil authorities in the state.

The equipment, valued at about $25,000, was loaned by the government to the county for recent years for emergency wartime use. Dr. Work said in his letter to the board that most of the equipment was placed outside the city of Cumberland, adding that communities and organizations will be given an opportunity to buy some of it at prices to be fixed by federal agencies.

Volunteer fire companies and similar groups would be able to use pumps and other equipment, it was pointed out.

Cites Need for Organization
Dr. Work said it is necessary to keep an organization intact that may be used in disasters such as floods or fires.

Members of the board conferred with Chief Judge William A. Huster regarding the sale of property in the Clarysville section, formerly owned by the Sullivan Brothers Coal Company, and advised the Court that objections would be filed to ratification of the sale of George W. Legge, receiver, to William Finsinger, sold for $500.

The board members pointed out that a certain tract was sold at private sale for $500 and that it is assessed at more than $13,000. Commissioner Simeon W. Green declared it should be offered at public sale, to bring a better price.

Albert Wagner asked for repairs to a ditch in the Grahamtown area, declaring gardens are ruined after heavy rains. The matter was referred to County Engineer John H. Carscaden.

Settlement of a court action brought by Alban C. Thompson, county tax collector of the First District, against the Board of County Commissioners, has been made, with the board agreeing to pay him $607 for properties bought in at tax sales. Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson dissented, contending there was no breakdown, or itemized list, presented to the board.

Commissioner Green and James Holmes voted for the payment stating that immediate payment would save additional court costs.

The properties purchased at tax sale were listed as follows: Ralph E. Castelli et ux, $84; Clara J. Everstine estate, $102; Ida B. and Helene P. McKee, $227; Rosa A. Shoemaker, $106; and Mary Lulu Yingling, $88.

Upon the motion of Commissioner Wilkinson, the board granted an abatement of $350 to Clifford W. Skidmore, Middlebrook, District 19, on a building which had been torn down several years ago.

Local Army Nurse Heads Eye Clinic
A Cumberland nurse, First Lt. H. E. Thuss, army nurse corps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Thuss, Roberts place, is head nurse in the eye clinic at Newton D. Baker General hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va.

Interviewed recently at the hospital, Thuss said she has worked since February, 1944, has a giant magnet, one of three of its kind in this country, used to remove shrapnel splinters from the eyes of patients.

Although the magnet has tremendous power, the local nurse said, it is often incapable of removing foreign bodies from the eye because they have become too deeply embedded. In such cases it is necessary to operate and remove the eye.

Lt. Thuss said that technicians at the hospital made artificial eyes of non-breakable plastic material, working red fibres into the plastic with the exact anatomical placement of small blood vessels found in the natural eye.

Commissioned a second lieutenant in the army nurse corps June 15, 1942, Lt. Thuss was stationed at Fort Jay, N. Y., Camp Rucker, Ala., and Fort McClellan, Ala., before going overseas in April, 1943. She served as a nurse replacement in station hospitals at Cassablanca and Oran in North Africa before health forced her to return to this country six months later. She was promoted to her present rank while overseas.

Her sister, First Lt. Virginia Thuss, army nurse corps, has been overseas twenty-seven months with the Ninety-seventh evacuation hospital unit in the European theater.

Cards Are Recovered
William E. Bishop, bailiff of trial magistrates court, reported that his driver's license and other valuable papers, stolen from his car last night, were recovered.

The cards, Bishop said, were returned by George Herboldsheimer, local tinner, who found the cards lying in the seat of his truck, parked beside the Strand theater, about 4 p. m. that afternoon. The thief, apparently, kept the leather case in which the cards were kept, Bishop said.

Biggs Wins Air Medal
Technical Sgt. Wallace H. Biggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Biggs, 225 Walnut street, Westport, recently received the fifth Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal for courageous and meritorious service with the Ninth AAF in France.

Sgt. Biggs, overseas since September, 1944, is a radio operator-gunner with a B-26 Marauder group.

CHANGE POSITIONS—R. M. Hudak (left), personnel manager at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant here, on Monday assumes his duties as superintendent of the company's new plant, now under construction at Houston, Tex. He will be succeeded here by E. G. Lytle (right). Although Hudak assumes his new duties on Monday he will remain in Cumberland several months. He was personnel manager at the plant here for eight years, coming to this city from the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio. Lytle came to Cumberland in March 1944 to become Hudak's assistant. He previously was associated with the Goodyear company's aircraft division at Akron. It was erroneously reported earlier this week that Hudak would become personnel manager at Houston.

News Will Recommend Returned Serviceman for Free Education

Course in Business Administration Is Offered by Babson Institute

Through arrangements with the Babson Institute, The Cumberland News will select a returned serviceman of Allegheny county to attend, free of charge, an intensive thirty-five-week course in business administration at the institute, located at Babson Park, a suburb of Boston, Mass.

The free course is being made available through Roger W. Babson, newspaper financial columnist and chairman of the board of incorporators of the institute, which has been in operation since 1919.

Babson, whose column is carried in more than 350 regular newspapers, informed the News that the institute is being "embarrassed" by inquiries from returned servicemen who wish to take the course, and he subsequently decided to assist seventy-five veterans to obtain a free education.

G. I. Bill Pays Part
Under the G. I. Bill of Rights, the federal government pays $500 tuition plus $450 for board and lodging toward the institute's standard fee of $1,250, Babson wrote, which leaves $300 for the serviceman to provide before October 1 when classes begin.

A widely known philanthropist, Babson wrote to the seventy-five newspapers, including the Cumberland News, that have carried his column for the longest period of time, and asked them to recommend a returned veteran in an attempt to "sift the wheat from the chaff" of the inquiries about enrolling.

Babson will supply the recommended veterans with the $300 necessary to complete the $1,250 fee, so that the seventy-five servicemen will not have to pay anything for their education in business administration at the institute.

The Cumberland News will recommend from Allegheny county one of the seventy-five veterans who will receive the partial scholarship from Babson in connection with the G. I. Bill educational provisions. In other words, the News will recommend a veteran for a free education in business administration.

Submit Qualifications Soon
In order to obtain candidates for Babson's offer, the News asks that any returned servicemen interested in taking the course submit his qualifications as soon as possible to William L. Gieppert, managing editor, The Cumberland News, Cumberland, Md.

Although the course will not begin until October 1, enrollment at the institute will be full long before that date. Hence, early enrollments are necessary to insure such a part scholarship from the institute.

Heier Will Admitted To Probate Here
The will of Mrs. Elizabeth Heier, 423 Columbia street, who died June 28, was admitted to probate at yesterday's session of orphan's court.

A son, Charles C. Heier, was named sole beneficiary and executor of the estate. The will, drawn November 16, 1928, was witnessed by Lee H. Ash, William G. Gillum and Alice Gillum, all of whom have since died.

Under the will of Mrs. Annie M. Van Meter, which was probated Tuesday, Mrs. Mabel Robinson, Cresaptown, a daughter, receives a life interest in the home property of her mother. Orr Suggests Valley Street Bridge Policy
A policy concerning action on the damaged Valley street bridge was suggested by Commissioner James Orr yesterday. No further action on damage settlement has been taken.

The city might not be justified in going into great expenditure to replace the bridge it was pointed out if the flood control plan necessitates a different span.

The council authorized the closing of a foot bridge over the Baltimore and Ohio tracks in the north end. Mayor Thomas S. Post will submit names to the council Monday for the zoning appeals board.

Albert Shaffer was named as guard at Constitution park at $20 a week. The semi-monthly payroll was approved.

Drive To Raise $2,000 for Honor Roll Starts Soon

Solicitation Will Be Conducted by Mail; Other Donations Welcome

Solicitation by mail to raise $2,000 with which to finish paying for the Allegheny County Honor Roll in city hall rotunda will be started within the next few days, according to an announcement last night by the Executive committee of the Honor Roll committee.

Contributions toward honor roll expenses to date amount to $3,783.75, Thomas F. Conlon, chairman stated, adding that an additional $2,000 is needed to complete the work.

While the solicitation will be made of selected residents of the county, Conlon said contributions will be accepted gladly from any source.

Planned in 1942
Plans for the honor roll were formulated at a meeting on March 9, 1942, just three months after the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor, and the board was dedicated on Armistice day of that year.

The honor roll was erected in the name of the school children of the county who have contributed $2,323.24 to its expenses although the first contribution was one of $800 from the city. The balance of the contributions—$860.43—came from organizations and a few individuals, bringing the total to date to $3,783.75, with an additional $2,000 needed to complete it.

At the present time the board bears the names of 14,000 Allegheny county men and women who entered the armed forces, and 500 more names are being prepared for addition to the board.

Need 300 Names
Conlon said, however, that there is an estimated 300 more persons in service whose names have not been placed on the board. Their names cannot be obtained through the usual sources, he explained, adding that relatives or friends of those 300 servicemen and women could perform a valuable service by mailing the names to the committee, by dropping the names in a mail box located in city hall rotunda, for that purpose.

The Executive committee of the Honor Roll committee is composed of Conlon, chairman; Miss Wella Cook, secretary; John Park, treasurer and chairman of the ways and means committee; Thomas E. Gilchrist, Mrs. John Findlay and Earl Bracey.
